David O'Neill is a professional photographer and teacher with more than 25 years experience in college, newspaper and corporate photography. His work experience includes staff photographer Burlington County College, staff news photographer for the Trentonian (NJ), staff corporate photographer for the Cigna Corporation and owner of O'Neill Photography in Rocky Hill, CT. He also owned and managed O'Neill Digital in Natick, MA, and with his wife Dana, began his current venture, Northlight Editions in White River Junction, VT in 2003. David holds a BFA in Photographic Illustration from the Rochester Institute of Technology and an MA in Photographic Education from Goddard College.

Dana T. O'Neill is a professional news and documentary photographer with a strong interest in the history of the medium. She was a staff photographer for the Burlington County Times (NJ) as well as a stringer for The New York Times, Philadelphia Inquirer, Associated Press and United Press International. Dana holds a BFA in Photographic Illustration from the Rochester Institute of Technology, certification in preservation and restoration of photographic images from George Eastman House, and did graduate level study at the University of Hartford in photographic history.